WASHINGTON SCHOOL NOT TO BE BUILT THIS YEAR

That construction work on the proposed new Washington school building will not be commenced this year, was the definite statement of the school board last night in discussing school affairs.

An investigation will be made, however, to see what can be done in the way of making the building more safe and sanitary. The board appointed a committee composed of Architect Leslie Hodgson and Director James Riley to make this investigation.

According to the plans of the school board, the chief construction work this year will be in building of the new Central Junior high school building, for which plans are now being prepared; the improvements at the Five Points building, now under way; roofing at the Ogden high school, and some minor betterments at other buildings. Architect Hodgson is expected to submit plans for the new Washington school this year but, as it will take considerable time to get out the detailed specifications even after general plans are adopted, the indications are that the building work can not be started this season.

Director Riley informed the school board at its meeting last evening that the teachers of the school were anxious that something should be done immediately regarding the unsanitary conditions there. Dr. E. I. Rich said that he believed corrective measures of temporary nature could be arranged, which would answer the immediate needs for the school year, saying that heavy expense ought not to be involved in any effort at permanent work as the new building would be under way next year.

The contract and bond of Newman and Stewart for the placing of a new roof on the Ogden high school building were accepted, the work to cost $1,975.

'Fit to Fight' Is To Be Shown in Brigham City

BRIGHAM CITY, Aug. 9.—Health Officer John H. Burt has secured the film "Fit to Fight," which is being sent over the country with the endorsement of Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the United States army, and which was shown to hundreds of thousands of soldiers in the various training camps in the United States. The film will be shown in the high school auditorium on Monday evening, August 11th and boys 15 years and up, as well as all men, are invited to attend the performance and witness the production. A lecturer explains the film and amplifies the story, the entire production being an educational effort to impress upon the minds of the boys and men the awful consequences of immorality. The film has been shown in Salt Lake City under the direction of the state board of health and has the personal endorsement of the state board and especially Dr. T. B. Beatty, the secretary. It is the intention to feed the morbid curiosity of the immoral, by showing this production, but in a manner, in an intensely interesting manner, with the problems of clean living and teaches a striking lesson. Admission will be free, as the picture is being shown everywhere under the direction of the health board which bears the entire expense of the production.

English Is to Be Taught to the Foreigners

SALT LAKE, Aug. 9.—Americanization of foreigners and the administering of the part-time educational law were the principal subjects considered yesterday at the first day's meeting of school superintendents in the capitol.

Governor Bamberger welcomed the educators and others present at the meeting. G. N. Child, state superintendent of public instruction, was chairman.

Speaking of the education of the aliens affected by the Americanization law passed by the last legislature, J. Fred Anderson, director of Americanization for Salt Lake public schools, said that the opportunity time had come for such instruction.

Since the war, he said, America has awakened to the importance of looking after the mental and physical welfare of the immigrant.

"The national fellowship of the west is a great asset in the Americanization of foreigners in Utah, and will aid greatly in making the movement successful here," Mr. Anderson declared.

"If every citizen would become interested in one alien, we would have no Americanization problem. What is needed is a representative Americanization committee, comprised of business men, educators and new Americans who have been successful in the land of their adoption."

"Teachers of Americanization must be of cosmopolitan mind and have an earnest interest in the work."

Mr. Anderson stated that the Americanization law provided that all foreigners must be able to read and write the English language at least as well as the fifth grade standard.

Professor Leroy E. Cowles of the University of Utah spoke on the requirements for teacher training work on the curriculum for part-time schools.

I. B. Ball, state supervisor of agricultural education, urged unified teaching of agriculture in connection with vocational education.

Robert E. Smith, director of war loan organization (twelfth federal reserve district), was a speaker at the afternoon session of the convention.

He stressed the worth of teaching thrift in the schools.

George T. Odell, state director of war savings, and Henry B. Moyle, assistant director, also spoke at the meeting. They complimented the supervisors on the cooperation of the schools in the war savings drives, and thanked them for their support.

The superintendents will meet again today. The first session will open at 9:30 this morning.

Austria Declares Inability to Meet Demands of Treaty

COPENHAGEN, Thursday, Aug. 7.—(By The Associated Press.)—A summary of the Austrian note presented to the allied peace mission at St. Germain, France, yesterday, has been received here from Vienna.

"If German Austria's territorial demands are fulfilled to the minimum extent maintained for in the appendix to the note," says the summary, "German Austria will make efforts to believe she can live independently and in peace in this territory. She expects the league of nations will hear her in her hour of distress."

"On the other hand German Austria still is firmly convinced that the economic burdens imposed upon her by the peace treaty cannot really be carried out and that, if they had not substantially lightened, she is bound to collapse."

"It will be impossible for the next few months to deliver milk cows and cattle as German Austria's children are perishing for lack of meat and milk. German Austria must allow herself to be placed under the entente powers' financial control, but she expects the repatriation committee will act with the consideration demanded by her desperate position and grant the necessary credits to obtain raw materials and foodstuffs."

The note urges amendment with a view to investing a commission with plenary powers, regarding all economic and financial peace conditions. It then argues regarding "the unjust and unequal division of old Austria's debts among the states which succeeded it and the injustice of stipulations regarding war loans."

"It seems self-evident," the note continues, "that all states in what was formerly Austria-Hungary should divide the debts of the old monarchy. Apart from the bank note debt, clauses in the peace treaty show a burden of debt for German-Austria or some forty billion marks. Thus two-thirds of the entente debt of the Austrian states, without the note debt, is placed on the shoulders of one-fifth of the former population."

The note proposes, as in the case of pre-war debts, that all debts shall be divided by the reparations commission according to the ability of individual states to meet them. A similar proposal is made regarding Austro-Hungarian bank notes held abroad.

The note concludes that a reference to settling accounts between Germany, Austria and other states of the former monarchy, declaring that stipulations not capable of fulfillment must be removed and these questions regulated by the reparations commission in order not to prolong the peace negotiations.

"It would be indisputable value for all parties," the note adds, "if the members of the German-Austrian deputation were heard and called upon to give oral explanations before the committees."

The note is accompanied by extensive proposals on territorial and political questions.

DISCOVER BIG STRIKE MOVE AMONG GERMANS

BERLIN, Friday, Aug. 8.—(By The Associated Press.)—The government announces the discovery of an extensive strike movement which if successful will lead to a general railroad strike on September 1. Spartacist communist agitators are charged with being the leaders of the movement, which the government is using every means to suppress.

"The discovery was made just when Germany believed itself quieting down while the rest of the world rioted and struck," the official statement says.
